

Name: _____ Class Period: ____ Date: _____

The War That Made America: A Country Between (episode 1) - FULL

1. It's one of the great ironies of American history—the man who led the Revolution nearly lost his life fighting for that same British Empire _____ years before.
2. But the day it all began, there was nothing _____ about the father of his country.
3. It turns out this Indian leader, known as the Half-King, has his own _____.
4. This incident will trigger an all-out war for _____ that soon spreads around the world.
5. Both France and Britain set their sights on one spot in particular—a strategic river junction called the _____ of the Ohio, where Pittsburgh stands today.
6. Now 3,000 of them have made the Ohio Country their new _____.
7. In fact, he's called the Half-King because of his _____ authority.
8. So the Virginians leave the parlay having secured the Half-King's _____.
9. Washington draws his own _____ of the journey.
10. His report on the mission goes all the way to _____.
11. Within weeks, the _____ of the slain Ensign Jumonville sets off in pursuit.
12. By nightfall, the situation is _____.
13. Across the Atlantic, in the Palace of Versailles, Louis XV and his ministers spend the winter of 1755 preparing to defend their North American _____.
14. But before he even begins, the general runs into _____ problems.
15. General Braddock names George Washington one of his _____ aides.
16. The Americans encourage Braddock to court Indian allies, but the general's scorn shows; all but _____ warriors go home.
17. Running the gauntlet is customary for all Indian _____.
18. Washington is impressed—this is the kind of British officer the young Virginian _____ to be.
19. It's impossible to say who is more _____ when they encounter each other deep in the woods.
20. The _____ proves useless in the dense woods.
21. The French and Indians have lost only 21 dead, while nearly _____ British and provincial soldiers are killed or wounded.
22. The French know they owe this victory to their _____ allies.
23. Five days into the retreat, General Braddock _____ of his wounds.
24. Neither side had any idea how costly this war would be, or how many battles there were still to _____.